Subject: A really good question for the Sec of State's office

I know Davis was interested in questioning SOS earlier, so for her info (or for whoever is ultimately questioning the Sec of State's office), Laurie just forwarded this from 2 years ago, in which only 81 counties have websites (which are apparently required under the bill).

I just re-counted, and they still only have 81 counties listed, which means that according to the chief elections officer in Texas, 173 counties would be unable to comply with the requirements of the law.

Subject: Counties that have websites

When I was going through old emails I found this one from last time we debated voter ID. We should include a question asking the SOS the number of counties that have websites because the bill states that as part of voter education the county will list the new requirements on their website. If a county doesn't have a website.....

Here is the list of county websites the SOS has on their site
<http://www.sos.state.tx.us/elections/voter/links.shtml#County>

There are 81 counties listed on this page. I don't know which ones are missing but if this is accurate then 173 don't have one.
